	Total	2,974,581	5,803,590		2,575,895

The Legislative power of the Commonwealth is vested in a Federal Parliament, consisting of the King (represented by a Governor-General), a Senate, and a House of Representatives. The Senate is composed of six Senators for each State, chosen for six years by the electorate voting in each State, as a single electorate. One half of the Senate retires every three years, but in case of prolonged disagreement with the House of Representatives the Senate will be dissolved, and a new Senate elected. The House of Representatives is composed of members directly chosen by the people of the Commonwealth, and the number of members is, as nearly as practicable, twice the number of Senators. The number of Representatives is apportioned to each State on the basis of population; but no State has less than five, the total number in the House of Representatives being seventy-six, apportioned thus:—N.S.W., 28; Vic., 20; Q'land, 10; S. Australia, 7; W. Australia, 5; Tasmania 5; N. Territory, 1. Every House of Representatives is to continue for three years from date of first meeting, unless sooner dissolved. Each Senator and each Member of the House of Representatives receives an allowance of £1000 per annum, excepting Ministers of State, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Chairman of Committees of the Senate, and the Chairman of Committees of the House of Representatives, who each receive an allowance, in addition to their official salaries. The Federal Parliament has power to make laws with respect to:—Trade and commerce; taxation; Postal and telegraphic services; naval and military defence; lighthouses, astronomical and meteorological observations; quarantine, census and statistics, currency, coinage, etc.; banking, insurance, weights and measures, bills of exchange and promissory notes, bankruptcy, copyrights, patents of inventions and trade marks, naturalisation and aliens, marriage and divorce, old-age and invalid pensions, immigration.

A Federal Executive Council is chosen by the Governor-General, and from these the Governor-General appoints officers to administer such Departments of State as the Governor-General in Council may establish. These officers are the King's Ministers of State. For the salaries of Ministers of State an annual sum not exceeding £15,300 is appropriated out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of the Commonwealth.

The Constitution provides for a Federal Judicature, for an Inter-State Commission on Trade and Commerce, for the transfer of State officials, State property, and State debts to the Commonwealth; also for the alteration of the Constitution

Getting around this CD

Navigating Archive CD Books CDs

All Archive CD Books products can be navigated easily using the handy bookmarks on each CD. The table of contents in most original books, and the original book index where it exists, can provide additional ways of finding the information required.

Searching Text on Archive CD Books Australia CDs

Optical Character Recognition (OCR) technology has been developing over the years as a useful mechanism to convert images (as Archive CD Books pages are) into text which can be searched. The quality of the OCR can still vary, and hence the searchability can vary. Around 95% or 99% of the words in books with good type are searchable—or even higher with very good type.

OCR is now a wonderful searching aid in many instances but there is still no substitute for reading the book!

Different Versions of Adobe Acrobat Reader

Adobe Acrobat Reader 4 or later should be used. Adobe Reader 6 (as it is now named) in fact has considerably better searching options and is recommended.

- Acrobat Reader v4 has both a “Find” and a “Search” tool. Those tools are two totally different things. Our CDs (that are searchable) work with the FIND tool
- Acrobat Reader v5 has only a “Find” tool (not a “search” tool). Our CDs (that are searchable) work with the FIND tool.
- Adobe Reader v6 has only a “Search” tool (not a tool labelled “Find”). HOWEVER — what is called “Search” is the same as the tool that used to be called “Find” Our CDs (that are searchable) work with the SEARCH tool

Tips For Searching and Getting More From the CD Books

- update to Adobe Reader 6 for more versatile searching options, including the ability to bring up a list of all instances of the word you are searching for — across multiple files on a single CD in a single search request.
- enter the MINIMUM number of characters needed to bring up the search results required.
- use Adobe Reader 6 to do some trial searches to try to identify the characters that may be misread. These can show up in the extra text in the search results list (Adobe 6 only). A few minutes trial will help you to avoid using characters that are more prone to being misread, e.g. try entering “rederi” if you want “Frederick”, but find that the letters “F” “c” and “k” are sometimes misread.
- use the “Match whole word” option to eliminate unnecessary items in your results list, e.g. to eliminate all the blacksmiths and tinsmiths etc when you only want the name Smith.
- use the “Match case” option to eliminate all the occupations “smith” if you only want the name “Smith”.
- don’t just search for names. Search the book for other names, places and subjects of interest:
 - › look for others of the same name
 - › look for others who lived in the same place or street
 - › who was the postmaster or police officer in the town?
 - › how often and at what time did the coach arrive in town?
 - › what churches were there and what time were services held?
 - › what other activities were there in the community?
 - › look for others who had the same occupation or other interests
- all of this and more may be available in a seemingly mundane book such as a directory. You can learn much of the background of life at the time, even if your ancestor is not listed there.
- Many CDs have only one file, but some have the book content spread over several files. Adobe Reader normally searches in the file that is open at the time. If you wish to search ALL files at once choose the “All PDF documents in” option and select the CD drive or directory the files are in—Adobe Reader 6 only.

ADOBE ACROBAT SEARCHING IS A WONDERFUL FIRST FINDING AID.
BUT DO NOT RELY ON IT TO PICK UP ALL THE INFORMATION YOU WANT
